The Family Picnic was a huge success with around 470+ people in attendance. See next few pages for photos and other information, including unclaimed raffle prizes.

Now we are past the halfway mark of the month of July! I hope you are all surviving the weather as well as enjoying the weekly activities and main events - and there is much more to come.

Friday night is the sold out Golf Outing Dinner which follows the day of golf with our neighbors from Candlewood Isle.

Saturday is your last chance to enjoy the final night of the Lions Club Carnival in town.

 For you baseball fans, next week is the "Subway Series" between the NY Yankess & NY Mets. On Tuesday, 7/26 & Wednesday, 7/27 you can cheer your favorite team. (Of course, if you are a Red Sox fan, you'll have to check the MLB schedule for those games!)

Our next main event will be a Hoedown - hosted by Emily LaMonte, Heather Dorcy, & Lauren Ross.

Find your inner country western mojo and get ready to line dance on August 13th.

Me - every morning...

Stay cool!

Denise

Around the Town...

Brookfield

The Town of Brookfield is one of the five towns surrounding the lake and home of the only two waterfront dining facilities – The Candlewood Inn and Down the Hatch.

In “olden” days, the Candlewood Inn was a restaurant located at 506 Candlewood Lake Road and was accessible by boat. After undergoing a million-dollar update and expansion, it became a catering facility exclusively for private events in 1999. When hosting weddings and private events, their guests are treated to a visually spectacular setting, top notch food, and excellent service.

Down the Hatch is a seasonal restaurant, and only waterfront restaurant, on the lake. Chances are that whenever you venture to enjoy their bar and/or food, you will certainly run into several Knolls neighbors! Located at 292 Candlewood Lake Road, or by boat (hang a left out of our cove then head straight) - the Hatch has a casual, fun, friendly atmosphere. It is currently opened

Tuesday through Sunday – 11:30am to midnight; the kitchen closes at 9pm on Tuesday through Saturday and at 7pm on Sunday. It is a nice place to take the family if you don't feel like cooking!

Brookfield also has a variety of parks and hiking trails including the Still River Greenway Trail, Old Bridge Sanctuary, Williams Park, and Birch Rocks Sanctuary. A local favorite is the Happy Landings Open Space Loop located at 55 Whisconier Rd which consists of 55 acres of open fields and approximately 19 acres of woodlands. It is a 3.5km loop trail that takes an average of 46 minutes to complete and is great for hiking and walking. Dogs are welcome but must be on a leash.

Finally, you may want to experience a garden center like no other. Brookfield is the home of Shakespeare's Garden, which started out in 1988 as a landscaping company specializing in fine gardening. In 2007, they expanded their offerings with perennials, trees, and shrubs and a barn shop which is filled with treasures to enhance your gardens and home. At Christmas, the shop is magical! Shakespeare's Garden is located at 25 Obtuse Road South and opened March thru December Mon–Sat 8am–5pm and Sun 9am–5pm. In January/February they are open Thursday through Sunday.

Book of the Week... Small Fry by Lisa Brennan-Jobs

Small Fry is Lisa Brennan-Jobs's story of a childhood spent between two imperfects, but extraordinary homes. Lisa was born on a farm and named in a field by her parents—artist Chrisann Brennan and Steve Jobs. Lisa's father was a rising star in Silicon Valley who was rarely present in her life but took an interest in her as she grew older. He was a complicated man who was known to be cold, critical and unpredictable. Scrappy, wise, and funny, the author provides an unforgettable guide through her parents' fascinating and disparate worlds. This book is a portrait of a complex family and an insight into Steve Jobs' rise to fame as told by his daughter. Lisa writes very well, descriptively, and engagingly but also appears to be begging for pity. She explained this in her quote, “I see now that we were at cross-purposes. For him, I was a blot on a spectacular ascent, as our story did not fit with the narrative of greatness and virtue, he might have wanted for himself. My existence ruined his streak. For me, it was the opposite: the closer I was to him, the less I would feel ashamed; he was part of the world, and he would accelerate me into the light.” I enjoy memoirs that provide insights into famous people's backgrounds and how they evolve. This was a good read. Happy Reading...Maureen Clegg
