Candlewood Knolls Flag

Be a proud Knolls resident and fly the Candlewood Knolls flag! This beautiful symbol of our beloved Knolls measures 3' x 5' and with a minimum order of 12 flags it sells for $100.00. Of course, the more we order ... the better the price becomes. We will be taking pre-orders at the Family Picnic, so stop by and order yours and then fly it high and proud!

IF YOU BUILD IT ... THEY WILL COME ...
... OR IN THIS CASE ... IF YOU REFURBISH IT ... THEY WILL PLAY!

Special thank you to the entire Ostuni family for refurbishing the baseball infield on Friday! What a fun operation to watch and what an exciting ball game to cheer for on Saturday! We deeply appreciate your efforts and your on-going commitment to the Knolls! Now PLAY BALL!

CHILDREN'S PROGRAM

WOW! What a week it has been at CKCP! Here's the rundown: Monday: Critter Caravan/Tie Dye Day/ Burger/Hot Dog Day Geez! Do you think that we could have stuffed anything more into this day?! Tuesday: Changing Daisies! Pretty cool ... we showed the campers how important water is for plants and flowers as we changed their color by using water colored with various food colorings. Wednesday: SPLASHDOWN! That's all that needs to be said! Thursday: "You've Been Slimed!" Again ... the name says it all! Friday: "Dino Dig!" As the KKN went to press we were unsure what was found ... but I'm sure you'll hear all about it when the kids get home ... maybe a mastodon?

Won't You Be My Neighbor...

There's been a large turnover of homes in the Knolls in 2020-2021. This week I'd like to introduce you to a new neighbor – Ann Haber. Ann is a “snowbird” who lives six months in Delray Beach and then escapes the Florida heat for six months at 1 Knolls Road. Ann is retired from careers in home renovation and property management and continues to enjoy home renovation projects as well as gardening and mosaic art. While visiting her son, Derek, and daughter-in-law, Kim, who relocated to New Fairfield 3 years ago, they would take drives in the area during the winter months and discovered the beauty of the lake from the Knolls on one of their drives. Last April 2020, Ann purchased her home and can often be seen at South Beach with her adorable 2 ½ year old granddaughter, Liza - a future camper for sure. Welcome Ann!

WATERING YOUR GARDEN

Jenny Ostuni

During this hot weather, make sure to pay attention to your plants watering needs. Overwatering is the most common cause of harm to young plants. If you are not sure about how often to water your plants, simply feel the soil to see if it is moist or if it feels close to drying out. If the plant leaves are curling and turning light brown, then they are dry and need more water. If the leaves start to droop or wilt and look like they are too heavy or they are turning dark brown or black, then your plant is getting too much water.

In the summer, the best time to water plants is in the early morning or early evening. Be sure to slowly increase the amount of water you give the plant and don't try to correct “under” watering by “over” watering. It's best to give your plants a slow deep watering every few days by holding the hose to your plant base and counting 20 seconds. This will allow the water to soak deeper into the soil which will result in a more rooted plant that holds the moisture. Adding a 3 inch layer of mulch around the soil and base of your plants can be extremely beneficial since mulch also helps keep plants cool and allows them to slowly warm up.
